

Week Seven Assessment

CI/CD Research

Travis CI

- Founded in 2011, trusted by ZenDesk, Bittorrent, Heroku, Engine Yard and more
  - Earliest commit on GitHub dates back to June, 2011
  - Most recent commit as of writing this was two hours ago
- Supports a variety of project hosting options e.g., GitHub; GitLab; Assembla; Bitbucket; Atlassian
- Strong documentation
- Mac, Linux, Windows, and iOS support
- Easy, auto deployment to wide, and I mean wide, variety of cloud service providers
  - Supports deployment to multiple providers
- Supports many programming languages
- In depth, easy to follow tutorial for getting started
- Free CI for open source projects that includes unlimited deployments and collaborators

Raygun - Application Monitoring

- Award-winning application monitoring founded in 2007, trusted by the likes of Microsoft, Coca-Cola, Samsung and more
  - Earliest commit on GitHub dates back to March, 2014
  - Most recent commit as of writing this was 9 hours ago
- In depth documentation
- Their overview provides comprehensive set-up instructions for a wide variety of languages and frameworks
- Can request a demo for you and your employees to see Raygun in action
  - request-demo
- Offers apm for a variety of languages, with additional supported languages on the way
- Offers real-user-monitoring
- Offers crash-reporting